Features

Standard

Soft grip with control lever

The soft grip with its control lever for switching on and off and control lever lock absorbs some of the vibrations and is extremely easy to grip.

Loop handle

The loop handle angle can be adjusted without tools using the tommy screw. It is ideal for working in confined spaces, e.g. for clearing work between bushes and shrubs.

Intermediate battery position in the device

The battery can be inserted into the device in 2 stages. In the first locking stage – the intermediate position – the battery is secured in the device but does not touch the contacts in the device. In the second locking stage – the operating position – the battery is completely inserted and touches the contacts in the device.

Length-adjustable shaft

With its flexible handles and variable shaft length, the perfectly balanced FSA 57 can be ideally adapted to your specific way of working.
